

How To Search For Books In Our Local Collection

Let me start by saying that this is an imperfect system. It is designed so that you get books in the quickest way possible, whether that is from our library or another. That being said, there is no direct way to put a hold on a library book from our local collection unless you contact us. This tutorial, however will allow you to see if we have the book in our collection or not.

Begin by going to www.tracpac.ab.ca

The screenshot shows the TRAC website interface. At the top, a dark blue navigation bar contains a 'Library' dropdown, 'Large Text' link, and a 'Log In' link with a user icon. A red arrow points to the 'Log In' link, with the text 'Click Log In' written in red. Below the navigation bar is the TRAC logo and the text 'THE REGIONAL AUTOMATION CONSORTIUM (TRAC)'. A secondary navigation bar includes 'Library Info', 'Search', 'My Account', and 'Help' dropdowns. The main content area features a 'New Titles' sidebar with links to 'New Books', 'New Videos', 'New Sound Recordings', 'New Large Print', and 'What's RSS?'. The 'Resources' sidebar lists 'Cloud Library', 'ME Libraries', and 'OverDrive'. A 'COVID-19 NOTICE' is also present. The central search area has a 'Quick library search' input field, a 'Limit by' dropdown set to 'All formats', and a search button. Below the search area, two sections of 'Top 10 Best Sellers' are displayed: 'Fiction' and 'Non Fiction'. The 'Fiction' section lists books like 'The family upstairs' by Lisa Jewell, 'Chasing Cassandra' by Lisa Kleypas, 'American dirt' by Jeanine Cummins, 'Woman on the edge' by Bailey, Samantha M., 'The wives' by Tarryn Fisher, 'The girls with no names' by Serena Burdick, and 'The orpl' by Peters, aut. The 'Non Fiction' section shows the beginning of a list with books like 'Successful' by David A. Levitin and 'JORDAN B. PETERSON'.
